

Experienced Sales Executive (m/f/x)

3S GmbH – Saarbrücken

3S GmbH is a growing technology company in the field of gas measurement technology specializing in the development and distribution of innovative testing technology for quality control. Established as a spin-off from research in 2006, the company is market leader for air quality monitoring and nondestructive leak and odor testing of products today. Sensors, signal processing, systems – in brief 3S – very well describe the core competencies of the about 30 members of staff.

Experienced Sales Executive (m/f/x), full-time or part-time (20 to 40 hours per week)

As an experienced sales executive (m/f/x), you will help us market our products B2B abroad. You will win new customers, serve our existing customers, and organize and extend our internal sales processes. Furthermore, you will independently identify potentials for a successful new customer acquisition. You will provide regular reporting about the sales successes thus keeping the sales management informed about your work.

What we expect from you

- Strength in acquisition and experience in sales, at the best of complex products.
- Professional training in sales is preferred.
- Self-confident manner, ambition combined with entrepreneurial thinking.
- Goal-oriented, independent, and careful working.
- Fluent English language capabilities. Knowledge of the German language is advantageous but not essential.
- Ability to work in a team, loyalty, and high sense of responsibility.

What you can expect from us

We are a highly motivated international team in an innovative working environment. We are characterized by a flat hierarchy and the possibility for personal development. We work together with respect, and honesty, fairness, and open communication come first. Everybody has the possibility to develop his own ideas and play a part in our team. We offer you a varied, challenging work and fair payment.

We are looking forward to your application by the 29th of April, 2022 at the latest.
